DESSERT FIRST!!! ITS AS EASY AS 1, 2, 3, AND 4

Who says you can't have dessert first? If you are the highest bidding table, you get the prime position of choosing any dessert you want! Here's all you have to do:

1. Check out the scrumptious delicacies and assorted confections showcased at the Dessert Auction tables or listed on the back of your menu!
2. Gather your tablemates and place your bids on the dessert auction sheet located at your table along with the name of the person that will race to pick your desired dessert. Your combined bids will determine the order of how the desserts are chosen. The sheets are tallied and then with the highest table bid going first, each table gets to choose from the available desserts. Before the live auction begins, our table hosts will be coming around to collect the bid sheet. Minimum bid per table is $25.

Hint 1: Bid high to insure your table receives the dessert of your choice.

Hint 2: Choose a table captain and be ready with your top three choices, circle you top choices!

3. After all the dessert bid sheets are tallied; our lovely Dessert Hostesses will come to each table starting with the highest bidder (see Hint 1). When it's your turn, you'll have only as much time as it takes the bidding table behind you to pick out theirs.
4. After item #20, Raise Your Paddle, desserts will be delivered to your table.

L 1 INDULGE YOUR TABLE: WINE AND DESSERT UPGRADE

Tonight's dinner calls for some special upgrades: First, we have wines and then dessert. The winning table will receive three bottles of white wine and three bottles of red wine to complement your meal. We'll begin with a 2009 Chinook Winery Chardonnay from the Yakima Valley. The husband and wife team of Kay Simon and Clay Mackey combined their extensive experience in winemaking and viticulture with the goal of creating some of the finest white wines in the state. Moving to reds, a 2006 Fidelitas Optu 2 will be poured. Fidelitas' Optu has formed a nice little following as it has a tradition of being one of the finer bottles of red vino from Washington State. Winemaker/Owner, Charlie Hoppes is very passionate about Optu and seems to find a way to put a small amount of his persona in each bottle. Tonight's chef from Ravishing Radish will prepare Cherries Jubilee sautéed and flambéed tableside, topped with Procoppio Vanilla Bean Ice Cream with a Tuille cookie for you and your table guests. Then compliment your dessert with a 2008 Dunham Cellars Late Harvest Riesling from Lewis Estate Vineyard. Harvested in late November 2008, the wine has incredibly low yields and a beautiful essence of apricot nectar.

L 2 YOUR CHANCE TO BE A STURTEVANT'S MODEL

Your chance to have your picture possibly used in the Sturtevant's 2012-2013 Advertising Campaign, including those popular back of the bus ads. Join Sturtevant's and their key staff, including Tracy Gibbons, Keith Rollins and more for their annual photo shoot on the mountain. Photographer, Jeff Caven, will give you three 8X10 photos of your choice from the day, and Sturtevant's may opt to use the photo in their ad campaign next year. Not only is this a great photo opportunity but it is a great opportunity to try on new 2012-2013 ski and snowboard gear. Sturtevant's will also provide a lift ticket for the day!

Restrictions: Date TBD in Spring of 2012
